The Meeting.

It will be seen by the report of the public meeting held last night that those present were of opinion that a railway should be built between Victoria and Nanaimo, as part of the Transcontinental Railway, and that the members elected to the Legislative Council should use every means to have the terminus at Esquimalt. It would, indeed, be strange did any other opinion prevail There was an attempt to have the location of the terminus at Esquimalt made a sine qua non of Confederation, and there were those at the meeting who concieved that the concluding part of the second resolution looked in that direction; but the assurance of the mover (Dr Tolmie) that such was not the meaning and intention quieted the apprehensions of most of those present, and the resolution was accordingly carried. The opinion of the meeting was very unanimous in favor of making every legitimate effort to have the terminus at Esquimalt; but there was considerable difference of opinion as to the result of the present movement, many persons believing the whole agitation to be illtimed, if not fraught with danger to the very cause it aims at promoting. Others, however, appear to think that so long as these questions are not made a sine qua non of Confederation, but merely put in the form of recommendations, the agitation will be harmless. For ourselves we cannot but think that the position taken by the Hon Dr Helmeken is the true one, and that to open the Terms in the new Council for the purpose of inserting, as a new condition, a question certain to give rise to sectional contention, is a step which is, to say the least, unwise at the present moment. The responsibility of the movement must, however, rest with those who inaugarated it. One result of the meeting last night would appear to be that the attempt to send Island members to the new Council pledged to oppose Confederation unless the terminus be first fixed at Esquimalt has received its quietus, and it is presumable we shall hear no more of that, at any rate. The Tariff Question. The question of a choice between our present tariff and the Canadian one has received a pretty thorough ventilation, and we venture to think that in most instances the electors will go to the polls prepared to cast an intelligent vote upon it. Indeed, we believe that we shall be warranted in saying that in every constituency excepting, perhaps, one, the candidates have been enabled to make a distinct declaration in favor of the acceptance of the Canadian tariff, as the immediate result of Confederation. Even the second candidate for the Nansimo - Comox District, after starting out on the anti-Canadian-tariff ticket, has been compelled to declare in favor of that tariff. The District to which we allude as forming a solitary exception is that of New Westminster; and It is presumable that the state of public sentiment there may in some measure be traceable to a misconception of the subject occasioned by the untiring and unscrupulous misrepresentations pat forward by the paper published at New Westminster. We confess to no little difficulty in believing the people of that important District capable of being 'staffed' with such preposterous fallacies as ere constantly being promulgated by a person so obvi-ouely unfami ar with the subject; and yet it is a lamentable fact that the most stopid writer can general'v find more or less disciples when pandering to the prejudices of mistaken sentiment. In the course of the discussion which has taken place on this subject it has repeatedly been stated in these columns that under the Canadian tariff we would get rid of about one-third of the amount being paid under the present tariff; and it was pointed out that, inasmuch as, under Confederation, the customs revenue would all go away to Ottawa, it would be a great object to get rid of so much taxation and at the same time prevent that large and ever-increasing amount of revenue being sent out of the country. Our up-river contemporary has taken upon himself to give this proposition a flat contradiction. He proand it was upon the result of that cal-result openly announced in the Legislate hour goes to prove how tary and perfectly harmless one; for the representatives of all the other Districts in the colony will be found ranged or the side of low taxation for Federal purposes. Our up-river contemporary cannot get over the whisky difficulty He appears to be possessed of a singular horror of Canadian whisky, and still labors under the delusion that the retention of the present tariff would keep out the accursed thing. Without pre-tending to deup that the country would be better were there no spirits import-ed at all, we have only to reiterate, what our contemporary ought to have known, that beither tariff could in any measure keep out the Canadian whisky It may now be accepted as a foregone conclusion that the Canadian tariff come into force as the immediate result of Confederation, and that any further protection for our agricultural interests which may be found necessary must be looked for from the imposition of a tax upon foreign productions in the form of a landing permit. We observe that our local intemporary has intimated that this mode of attaining protection is altogethe new to us. Now the fact of the matter is that this is precisely the mode of protecting our agricultural interests that was urged by the present writer during the last session of the Legislative Council.

To the Electors of the City of Victoria, GENTLEMEN:

At the request of many friends, I beg to offer self as a candidate for your suffrages as one of your representatives in the next Council. On the most important questions of the day we can not but agree.

I think the Terms, as negotiated with the Dominion Government, are of a most liberal character; but at the same time I intend to use every available effort, if an opportunity should present itself, towards bringing th erminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway as near the terminus of the calminum rance ranking as hear the capitation british Columbia as practicable. The Government grants for the purpose of not sectarian education should be largely increased, and on system placed on a more substantial and liberal basis.

Increased representation and Responsible Govern ment I would strenuously advocate.

I am of opinion that the Canadian Tariff should be at once accepted, as being the means of lightening indi-vidual taxation, and as tending to increase our commerce. In conclusion I may add that, while the general wants of the whole colony will ever be my study, your peculiar requirements will have my special attention. I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, Your obedient servant

Railway Meeting.

THE TERMINUS NOT TO BE THE SINE QUA NON.

St Nicholas Hall was filled with a large and respectable audience last evening, convened at the call of the Mayor His Worship stated that the meeting would take ship stated that the meeting would take into consideration the propriety of having a railway from Esquimait to Nanaimo as a part of the Transcontinental road running East. The preliminary meeting beld the other day had been of opinion that a railroad ought to be built to tap the trade of the loverland road. The small outlay of 3,000 000 laid out in Vancouver Island would not affect any real a company as the one that 3.000 000 is an out in valent very large would undertake to build the overland road If we attempt to oppose Confederation we should be like a let of Mrs Partingtons—the great wave of Confederation would swallow us up. His Worship continued at some length to sketch the advantages-defensive and commercial—of a road on the island.
Mr Farron—Why didn't you say so be-

The Mayor-There must be a fool and

The Mayor—There must be a fool and a blackguard in every meeting.

Mr Farron—Well, the fool's there and the blackguard's here. (Cries of, put him out.)

The Mayor appealed for order, which being restored, he went on to say trat if San Jaan Island were ceded to the Americans it would be impossible for a Brivish ship to reach the mainland. If this country were left out in the cold with respect to the terminus it would be fatal to the island.

Mr Farron—Is the Mayor going to make a political speech, or is he going to open the a political speech, or is he going to open the meeting:

The Mayor—If we ask for a railroad on the island we shall get it to Nanaimo and fast steamers can run from Nanaimo to Burrard Inlet in two hours, and then Coofedera: tion will do good. Mr Nienelson—Will you stand, Dr Trim-

Dr. Trimble—No I won't; I am sick of

The Mayor - A resolution was passed a

The Mayor— A resolution was passed at a preliminiary meeting.

A voice—That was a dirty meeting.

The Mayor—Well, if you had been there you would certainly have scented the room.

(Rears of laughter.)

Mr DeCosmos was then called on to offer the resolution, which was as follows:

That in the opinion of this meeting a railway ought to be constructed between Victoria and Nanaimo as part of the Transcontinental Railway Mr DeCosmos said the people should be con-

he constructed Railway

Mr DeCosmos said the people should be convinced by the able speech of the Mayor that a railway to Nanaimo ought to be built.

A voice—If possible.

Mr DeCosmos—We don't allow any 'ifs' in our railway dictionary. We had been fortunate enough to secure the guarantee of a railway to connect the Pacific with the railway system of Canada. Vancouver Island, being two-thirds of the wealth and population of British Columbia ought to have a voice in saying where the terminus shall be.

With the terminus elsawhere than on the Island every property-holder would be injured. He asked if the people of Victoria would be content to have the terminus on the mainland when it would injure their pockets. With a railway between Esquimalt and Nanaimo, Victoria's commercal supremacy would be assured. But if the road stopped at Burrard Islat all the trade would go by our doors! The speaker complimented the Delegates on having secured the railway. The Terms were not final. They were not closed. One of the Delegates even had stated in his address that there was 'an atom of hope that the Terms might be "mended in respect to the Tariff." He (Aff-DeCosmos) was opposed to leaving this road to engineers. Let the people say that they would have first, last and all the time, a railway connection with the trans-continental road and the Victorian who was opposed to it was a traitor to the best interests of the country.

Mr James Fell came forward to second the Mr James Fell came forward to second the resolution. He had been an opponent of Confederation and could not say he was even now a lover of it, but as everyone said we ought to have it he supposed he should have to go in for it. We were bound to have a railway through this extensive country within 8 or 10 years, and it may be sawantageous to us to go years, and it may be advantageous to us to go into Confederation. Canada was as anxious to have us go in as we were to get in. Canada had even given us more than we asked for. It was fer the people to say now whether they would accept the Terms or not, and if possible put in a stipulation to have a railroad built from Esquimalt to Nanaimo. Esquimalt was one of the finest harbors on the Pacific coast from Esquimalt to Nanaimo. Esquimalt was one of the finest harbors on the Pacific coast and if this country was to be anything the railway must be brought to Esquimalt.

Hon Dr Helmcken said he theught he might claim to have some interest in Vancouver Island and would do all be could to advocate her interests. At the same time if wa join Canada we must take part of her burdens, toe. The discussion had taken a wrong turn, and the feeling seemed to be that the Terminus would be at Burrard Inlet. He denied that there was anything in the Terminus would be Surrard Inlet. He would take the Terminus would be Surrard Inlet. He would take the Terminus would be Surrard Inlet. He would take the Terminus would be Surrard Inlet. He would take the Terms as they stand—having agreed to them would be Burrard Inlet. He would take the Terms as they stand—having agreed to them he would stand by them. The public had no right to assume that the resolution referred to Burrard Inlet, but to Vancouver Island. [great applause]. The Terms said the seaboard of the Pacific weuld be the Terminus. Vancouver Island is the seaboard and no other place—if means that and will be taken for nothing else. [prolonged cheering].

Dr DeCosmos — The dictionary don't say hat.

Dr Helmcken-The dictionary says the seaboard is that portion bordering on the sea.
When I said the seanward I put that construction on it, and that I intend to abide by. The seaboard of British Columbia and Vancouver Island are identical, and the sooner we take that stand the better.

Voice—Would you take the seaboard and bring it to British Columbia ?

Dr Helmeken-This is British Columbia. (Laughter.) By taking the stand that the seaboard is anywhere close than Vancouver laland you are ruleing your case. There is a seaboard of the Mainland, but it is at Bender of the Mainland of the M tinck Arm. The resolution was left indefinite that sectional differences might not be aroused, and becomes it was impos-sible to fix the site of the terminus. If Esquimalt and Victoria had been stated there would have been sectional dil-lerences aroused, and meetings held sleswhere to scratch it out and substi-tute some where else. It was absolutely no-

[Henr.] The Torms were open. The peo-ple were not bound by them. The Delegates were in a measure bound; but it was the Canadian Government that was bound firmly, and the people should be careful how they opened the Terms and let the Cabedian Government out of their bargain. If the Terms were opened on this question they would be opened on others, and every sec-tion would have a proposition to make. In reply to a question by Mr Gowen, br Helmcken said the Terms said the scaboard land. The insertion of this resolution meant the railway to Nanaimo or no Confederation. Did the meeting think the country would support any person who put this forward as the sine qua non of Confederation? [Cries of Mr J W Carey asked if the people were prepared to open up thes: Terms. If they were, the whole Terms fell to the ground and three other delegates would have to be sent to Ottawa. There was a political trick benind this resolution. The people should not be misled. The Terms said a road must be built from the seaboar' to the Rocky Mount-ains. Was Johnson's Straits the sea?

Mr Robson said that the agitation at this

Mr Robson said that the agitation at this time was very unfortunate and might be serious. Three of the previous speakers had handled the subject with much ability.

Voice—How are you on Bunster?

Mr Robson—I may say I'm, heavy on Bunster. [laughter.] He endo.sed the remarks of D-Heimcken, who wis in a position to know more of Canadian sentiment than anyone else. The doctor had decidedly the best of the seaboard part of the argument. The agitation was calculated to do no possible good, and might do harm. The resolution was an eyelence of the weakness of the cause of the pole of Vancouver Island—that they had doubts

ple of Vancouver Island—that they had doubts ple of Yangouver Island—that they had doubts as to the practicability of bringing the railway to Vic.oria. The terminus cry had the effect of creating a sitation in different localities on the Mailand. The Terms brought back were specially good—better than the colony had any right to expect or his hon, friend (Mr Decompose) had ventured to propose. "The Mayor then put the resolution and ryder, which were carried lalmost unimitute some where else. It was absolutely nocessary for the interests of the Dominion that the railway should terminate at Victoria, because if it terminated at Burrard Inlet it would be practically useless for commercial purposes. We had no right to talk of steamers to connect with the railroad. There was not a company in England that would not build the Nannimo road tor 20 miles of land on either side of it—all the coal lands and forest lands, and nearly the whole ic-ryder, which were carried almost unin-mously.

Dr Tolmie said the question of the line of railway would have to be decided by com-petent survey; but there was no question as to the desirability of Esquimalt as the tor-minus of the railway. We had better be sure and ascertain what the 'seaboard' means. Dr Tolmie then moved the follows-ing:

He did not consider it as such and would not support it if he did.

Mr C B Brown said capitalists were not

That the well sheltered harbor of Equipment, easily accessible as it is at all, seasons by day, or night, with its unsurpassed anchorage, proximity to the ocean as well as to the extensive and valuable coallicitis of Vancever Island, and also as being the station for Hermines of the station for the indisputable superiority over reminines of the British North American Transcantinental Ransway, and that ransway being on Imperia as well as a Colonial necessity, 45 quinnalt should unquestionably and deviative for the station of this great questions of this great questions of the great process of the great process.

In moving the resolution, the doctor said be was not disposed to retard Confederation and did not urge the resolution as a sine qua non.
Mr J G Norris had great pleasure in accepting this resolution and shortly reviewed the work of the Yale Convention and the progress the great question of Confederation had made in the past two years. Mr Seelye rose to correct a statement of Mr DeCosmos with respect to the terminus of the Intercolonial railway—that Nova Scotia stigulated that Halifax should be made the terminus of the Intercolonial Railway. There was a road 100 miles long in running order before Confederation was acomplished.

Great confusion here ensued. The resolution was shown to have been originally two from the audience.

Mr Plummer moved that the last sentence of the resolution be expunged.

Mr Macdon 1d seconded.

Dr Tolmie again said that the resolution did not urge the terminus as a sine qua non of Confederation.

Dr Helmeken said he feared that if the Victoria members proposed Esquimalt as the terminus, some one else might suggest Burrard Inlet, and the latter place might be Chosen.

The Mayor declined to put Mr Plammer's ment. If they are amended they fall to the ground. Don't be gulled by political demagogues. Now or never is the time to get union on good terms. $3,000,000 would never deter Canada from building this road. The very last paragraph in the Terms is that the Canadians will accept you on these amendment and the original resolution was carried, with cheers, It was moved, That a committee of three meeting dissolved. Mr Nathan was called for and alinded to his inexperience as a public speaker, and added that he would use every exertion to bring the railway to Esquimalt; but he would not imporil Confederation. It had been said that Victoria would steadily decline without the Terminus. His answer was that half a load was better than no bread. No part of fittish Columbia could be benefitted without Victoria.

The Counterfeit Treasury Notes.

The following is a copy of the circular received by a gentleman of this city, wishing him to become agent for the sale of Counterfeit Treasury notes, The affair may be a very clever heax to put poor human nature on the rack of temptation; or perhaps it is an experiment to find out how many honest men there are in the country.

ESTEEMED SIR- Being in want of a shrewd and trustworthy agent in your locality 1 have selected you in preference to a number of others. You were recommended to me by a travelling agent for a large commer-cial house in this city. He is a very inti-mate friend of mine and has accumulated an immense fortune in the business for which l tamense fortune in the outrages for which I desire your services. Were it not for him I should not repose such confidence in you. Now to business:—thay on hand a very large quantity of $1, $2 and $5 U. S. Tresvery, Noves (Queer), I deal in nothing but first class work, and you may depend upon it that every one of my bills is as well executed onthe in the energy in and printing serviced onthe in the energy in and printing service. cuted both in the engraving and printing as the bilts which are issued by the Treasury Department; consequently you run no more risk in passing them than if you were passing genuine money. My bills have been presented to back official; and they have almost invariably pronounced them genuine. They are printed on first class back note They are printed on first class bank note paper, are correctly numbered, and the printing cannot be excelled. I put the bills up in packages containing different amounts. The price of a $500 package is $200. Price of a $1000 package is $200. Price of a $5,000 package is $1,000. But in order to give you a fair show at the start I will not require more than one-quarter of the money than a supply the party of the package is $200. down cash. Therefore if you wish a $5,000 package you will have to pay but $250, for a $1,000 package out $50; and for a $500 package only $25. If you do not wish to, send your money in advance I will send the stuff to you by express and you can pay for it in the office when you receive it. (C. O. D.). If you wish it sent by Express I. will D.) If you wish it sent by Express I nesuredly pack it in such a way that no one can passibly suspect the contents of the box. I am as old hand at the business and I can manage everything to mislead the shrewdest persons. When I send you a package by persons. When I send you a package by Express I will write to you by mail to let you know that I have sent it. In conductng a business of this kind we must use great caution. Therefore, whenever you write to me send your letter by Express instead of by mail and to avoid suspicion say that the letter contains money—naming any small amount you like. You will not be suspect. ed in sending me a letter by Express have no other agent near you and it would be impressible for my name to be known to the Express agent. Endeavour on all occasions to send communications by Express. eyen; you have to ride many miles to an Express office. If you can spare time to come on do so. I would much prefer a per-office no one will dream what is the nature of your business. You will be as safe us if you were going into a first class 'place on Broadway. Were it otherwise I should not ask you to come on. I wish one thing to be understood very distinctly. That is I will not dveiate from the terms I have given you. not desiate from the terms I have given you. I w'll not give cred.t to a greater ext-nt than three-fourtne. I wish it to be distinctly understood that I deal on the Square and that I mean business. I have unbownded confidence in you, and from representations made to me I believe that you will act hon ourably with me; and it you fulfill my expectations you certainly will never have occasion to tegret it. I think that I have seid sofficient. But I must urge you to keep this matter a profound secret. A fortune is in store for both of us; and if you can manage this matter a profound sceret. A fortune is in store for both of us; and if you can manage to keep a still tengue all will go well. I want the following instructions strictly observed. If you remember that no mistake will occur. If you come on in person or send a reliable agent to me to examine the stock, call at my private office No. 52 John street Room No. 5 up etairs. Business can be conducted here secretly and safely. But if you send me a letter or money by Express direct it to my other place of business, YALE-LYTTON DISTRICT .- As was intima ted yesterday, Mr Barnard, not caring to take a seat in the new Council, has determined to retire in favor of Mr Cornwall, of Ashcroft. Mr Barnard has represented the Yale-Lytton District during three sessions, and has rendered good service to the cause of reform. He has made his mark as a lugislator of no little ability and promise, and retirement at this critical juncture of the colony's history is greatly so be regretted. We could have wished especially to see him in the new Council, so that he might share in the completion of the great scheme of Coufederation—a scheme in which he has taken such an earnest and prominent part from the first. As a Government contractor Mr Barnard would, however, have occupied a somewhat anomalous pesition under the new Constitution, withough he would have had a clear right to retain his seat for one month, which would doubtless have been retirement at this critical juncture of the month, which would doubtless have been month, which would doubtless have been sufficient to dispose of Confederation. He has taken his decision, however, and Mr Cornwell will, in all probability, be elected without opposition, as Mr Barnard would no doubt have been. We assume from the simple lact of Mr Barnard having retired in lavor of Mr Cornwell that the latter gentlements. man is right upon the great issues, viz. Con-tederation, Responsible Government and the Canadian Tar 3. Should be take the right stand upon these and other important measures which may arise, Mr Cornwall will undoubtedly prove a valuable acquisition to the Legislative Council, as he is a gentleman of good ability and a forcible and interesting debater.

LORD MAYO .- Our exchanges notice the receipt of Bombay dispatches announcing the death in India of Lord Mayo. The deceased nobleman was for many years a prominent nobleman was for many years a prominent and useful member of the Conservative party in the House of Commons, then known as Lord Nans. Twice Chief Secretary for Ireland, he rendered good service to the Crown in a troublous time, having filled the office at the Fenian outbreak. To his firm and prodest policy was doubtless largely due the successful suppression of that outbreak, which, in less skilled hands, might have attained greatly more formidable proportions. Lord Nans was a warm and steadfast friend of Mr Disraeli, who rewarded bis devotion with a Peerage and the Vice Royalty of India—the richest gift at the Vice Royalty of India—the richest gift at the disposal of the Crown, and which had just become vacant by the doath of Sir John Lawrence. In India Lord Mro quite justified the high opinion which had been formed of his administrative ability: but, like his predessar he fell before that trying and whealthers. essor he fell before that trying and unhealthy

THE LOTTERY .- The Western Union Telegraph Company have connected a wire with the Pavillion wherein the drawing of the Great Lottery will take place. As each lucky number is called out the operator will telegraph it to the offices of the company in ell-parts of the continent, where a person holding a ticket may ascertain whether or not it has proved 'tacky,' on payment of 25 cents for each number. The drawing will commence to-morrow.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO - The barkentine C L Taylor, Capt Lane, arrived yesterday in twenty days from San Francisco. She comes consigned to Messrs Millard & Beedy with a full cargo of merchandise. The Taylor consigned to Messrs Millard & Beedy with a full cargo of merchaudise. The Taylor experienced head winds until she reached Cape Flattery, eight days ago, when she met calm and fog. Capt Lane reports in the Straits the brig Lucas for Seattle, and the bark Forest Queen for Port Ledlow.

MINING MACHINERY, - Among the freight of the C L Taylor was the machinery, manufactured at San Francisco, for Messrs Lane Kurtz & Co's mining and sawmill operations on the William Creek Meadows. Having given a description of this machinery some time ago, it is unnecessary to say more than that it will be shipped at once to its Barker-ville, where it is destined, we trust, to act an important part in the mining history of the colony. We undertand that the quartz mill will not be shipped before Spring. IMPERIAL HONORS TO CANADIANS. - The honor of the Companionship of the Colonial Order of St Michael and St George has been conferred upon Colonels Smith, McEachern and Chamberlain, of the Canadian Volunteers, for the good public service done by them last Spring.

THE SMALLPOX is raging alarmingly at Salem, Oregon, and people are fleeing away from the place. The pestilence will doubtless reach Portland, and it would be well should our authorities take steps to prevent its being brought to this place by re-THE CHARGE OF LARCENY .- John McTeigh

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST :- What is it proposed to do with the three unfortunate sisters who have become insane?" Is it pro-posed to leave them in their present pittable state—one in gaol and the other two in a feeble state of both body and mind? Ought there not be some organized plan to give them some real, substantial and permanent assistance and attention?

The Government, I hear, has subscribed $100 towards their relief, and about $112 has been collected from citizens. More might be easily had, were the collectors in a position to assure subscribers that the money will be put to practical use.

I would, therefore, Mr Editor, suggest that a suitable building be produced and an attendant hired to look after those unfortunate women, whose sad condition appeals loudly to the charitable. Yours truly, K.

How the Case Actually Stands.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST-There has been EDITOR BRITTEN COLONIET—There has been a good deal of talk one way and another about the candidates to represent Nanaimo in the Legislature, and as I think it is the duty of every man who calls himself a man to vote for the proper person, I thought I would take it upon myself to make a few remarks on the sabject through the paper, and as I think myself that your paper is by far the most truthful and reliable one, why if you will be so kind as to publish them, I shall feel much obliged to you.

truthul and reliable one, why if you will be so kind as to publish them, I shall feel much obliged to you.

The other paper, the Standard, does not seem to do the fair thing at all. It abuses Mr Robson a great deal too much, and I don't think he at all deserves it. The meetings that have been held here of late have quite gone in favor of the gentleman; while Mr Bunster with a few noisy pals has decidedly lost ground ever since that last meeting, when if he had got anything in his head to say, he did'nt know how to say it. Mr Robson gave us a vory interesting, long and useful speech, which the people seemed all to like first rate. He then invited Mr Bunster to say something, who, when he mounted upon the stage said he was thankful to Mr Robson for inviting him, but he considered he had a right to speak. If he paid five dollars to the Institute of course he had a right; but I think Mr Robson istood treat' hat time. I should very much like to know, Mr Editor, who it is that the Standard gets all its news about our affairs from. It would be better for that paper a good deal if it was to pay somebody to tell them the real truth. One some part of the same and it don't think that he ever will be. The news from Comox does not agree at all with a long letter from Mr Coleman, and in fact Mr Robson is all the 'go' up there. long letter from Mr Coleman, and in fact Mr

The applause at the meeting the other night was all for Mr Robson is all the 'go' up there.

The applause at the meeting the other night was all for Mr Robson, and Mr Bunster's people tried to break up the meeting after Mr Bunster had been abusing that gentleman for a long time. One fellow said to me the other day 'If Bunster can't talk better nor that to lad to the fools like us what's he going to do let of fools like us what's he going to do day 'I Bunter can't take better nor that to he of the to fool sike us, what's he going to do when he gets among the smart men of the country, who are sent to represent the interests of all the districts.' We would not let them break up the meeting till Mr Robson had regularly flummuxed the Brewer in answer to his abusive remarks. I tell you what Mr Edistor, Mr Bunster's own people any themselves. that they thought he could speak, and that his first speech up here was'nt very good because he was'nt quite prepared; but this last time he spoke, has just fixed things, you bet. He has'nt the show of a Chinaman now. bet. He has nt the show of a Chinaman now. I perhaps ou at not to say this until we have got all we can out of him, that is if I was to do the same as his committee do, for they don't care a cent who gets in, and if a man don't spend some money at the house where his com-mittee meetings are held, he may as well stop away altogther. 瓷I've made my letter longer than I intended se you must please to excuse me, and I hop it may do good in the right direction.

Yours respectfully,

P.S.—Tell Bunster if you see him as how that last lot of Beer is all out, and we can't do nothing till we get some more.

"Down in the Mouth."

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST. -The very choice expressions used by the paper which desires to foist on the Nanaimo people a candidate they won't have, are indicative of the style of address and language its protoge adopts at Nanai-mo. To speak of Mr Robson as being 'very down in the mouth,' may be use-ful to relieve the itemizer of his ready, supply and over-stock of slang, but it won't do Bunster's cause any good; nor does it discourage his opponents. It has a contrary effect

The disfor himself or the community. reputable schemes adopted to win favor by him, and for him, ought to be treated, and will be treated, by every rightminded person as something tar beneath what is expected of a man aspiring to Legislative honors, or of those who are thought qualified to elect. The only wonder is that both Bunster and his BEER were not transhipped as 'worthles,' or at any rate—'not the quality for Nanaimoites.' Is a liberal contribution of BEER the only recommendation required of a person who seeks to repreent us? A man who brings us no better will be return. Victoria, Oct 18, 1570 - 519

To the Electors of the City of Victoria.

Helt a continuance of your trust.

The proposition to make British Columbia in future at integral portion of the bombine of Causta has been reduced to a series of definite "terms of union." Upon the electors now resis the prave responsibility of determining with their they will become partners in the west or woo of tanada, and whether those terms are suitable, sufficient and calculated to promise the progress and prosperity of British Columbia hereafter; and if the answer be in the affirmative, of leading her to find becoming part of her destury and future.

coming part of her destury and future.

If the choice of a tarif be, as at present, a mere election either of that of Camada or that of British Commitia as either exists, I must, in order to coincide with such choose that of annals; but, at the same time, I fear that when the Camadian Tariff and Exguse Law are put in force much injury will accree therefrom to our lagming, bewing and other producing interests; the inducements to be diminished, and the benefits arising from the Union will indicte be segreat nor so pere as they ought an anight be made, and, proceed to be.

might be many and, proceedy are by many, especies to be.

There may, however, be even yet an atom of hoge that before the terms of union are disposed of, certain amendments to the tarill will be allowed; in that case last for the purpose of preventing, as far as possible, the rijary likely to accuse to our larming and some industrial interests from the lorthcoming revolution, and of maxing the projected public works the means of building up and strengthening our own beautifur country and the bomthout, tatead for serving that purpose for a jealous rival. As sheration of the terms will be required for this purpose. I need scarcely add that the prosperity of Victoria and that of our producing interests are intimately connected and in some measure dependent upon each other, statistics of loreign trade show this.

The substitution of a purely representative and responsible for the present form of Gover-mont may be regarded as one of consequences of Confederation. The determination of the site for the Terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railroad must, depend very much upon the objects the Canadian. Government have in view in undertaking such a gigantie wook; the cost and practicability of the various routes, the advantages of each low the purpose required. It is probable that the main of-ject may be the acquisition of an easy, short and expedience of the purpose of the purpose, among others, of British and Territory for the purpose, among others, of British and Territory for the purpose, among others, of British and European commerce; secondly, for domestic uses, such as the action of the purpose of the scheme of the Country, rapidity of commatication, defence and various others. For the purpose, such such production of the scheme of the Railway must have instruming at some good scaport convenient to the Pacific Ocean and superior to that of first synal—the North Pacific Railway. Vancouver Island possesses such scaports and is in reality the "seaboard of British Columbia". The precise syst of the Terminus, however, must in reality be settled after the schemidic surveys shall have been completed. The subject is of much importance and naturally cates considerable interest and concern; but it is loged the friends of hostility or hind cure to a foundation of hostility or hind cure to a foundation of a considerable content.

a cause of hostility or hindrance to Confederation.

It is but natural that unavoidable, inpending and radical organic changes, the effect of which cannot be idearly forseen, should create in many a feeling of arena and distrust of the future. That the effects of Confederation will be advantageous to some persons, piaces and interests, and mimical and confusing to others, is more them probable; but taking the country consideration, union seems calculated to be beneficial to the terms of union combined, simulatineously into consideration, union seems calculated to be beneficial to the country, considered as a whole, it, not immediately, at least in the not distant future.
